

15 August 1942

Mont-Joli

PL-11800

15 August 1942 #9 Bombing & Gunnery Mont-Joli Qc., ECA Detachment, That little "Danger - Depth Charges Fitted" sign in the nose of a R.C.A.F. coastal patrol aircraft spells danger for any lurking Nazi sub that gets spotted by the alert crew. Many attacks on German submarines have been made by coastal patrol aircraft and the Nazis are finding what a Canadian depth charge dropped next to their hulls can do.

PL-11801

15 August 1942 #9 Bombing & Gunnery Mont-Joli Qc., ECA Detachment. A big Canso amphibian aircraft forsakes its usual environment and proves its versatility by*settling down on a landing field at a R.C.A.F. station in eastern Canada.

These Canadian-built Cansos, flown by R.C.A.F. coastal patrol crews are constantly patrolling Canada's coastlines. Hudson A/C taking off.

PL-11802

15 August 1942 #9 Bombing & Gunnery Mont-Joli Qc., ECA Detachment. As they take off on their tour of patrol duty, the crew of a Lockheed Hudson of the R.C.A.F. coastal patrol get this view of the serene eastern Canadian countryside, the safety of which their unceasing watchfulness assures. Hudson A/C over Mont-Joli

PL-11803

15 August 1942 #9 Bombing & Gunnery Mont-Joli Qc., ECA Detachment. Unknown Officer

PL-11804

15 August 1942 #9 Bombing & Gunnery Mont-Joli Qc., ECA Detachment. Unknown Officer